Stony Dome, Sunset/Sunrise Glaciers, Mount Eielson (Unit 11,12,13)

Vegetation consists of dry tundra with small stands of willow and dwarf shrub communities. Loose scree and rocky outcrops are found higher up. Long-tailed jaeger habitat. Raptor sites throughout the region. Wolf dens and scattered bear dens. There are 4 cabins in Unit 13. Frequent air traffic and day use in summer degrades wilderness character; otherwise it is good. Very low encounter rates in winter enhance character.

Receives considerable day use due to its proximity to Eielson Visitor Center. Because this area is essentially treeless, road traffic can be seen across great distances. It offers a good to fair wilderness experience. Air traffic is frequent and encounter rates are moderate.
